- When instructed, roll the die to discover your mouth adaptation. Circle the number on the die and the adaptation next to it. Repeat this process for the other adaptations.
- Select your wild card adaptation. Be creative. It can be anything, as long as it is something that helps your animal to survive.
- Draw a picture of your animal in the box on the next page. Include all of the adaptations you rolled as well as your wild card adaptation.
- Give your animal a name. The name should be appropriate for the animal you created. Write your animal's name on the line at the top of your drawing.
- Answer the questions about your animal under your drawing on the last page.
